

CUSTOMIZED SHORT PROGRAMS AT ITS

Not only ITS offers annual programs, but the institute also provides customized short programs to which universities can send their students and staffs to develop their hard/technical skills, soft skills, culture, and languages. Experience has proven that ITS can hold fun, enjoyable, and impactful topical short programs for international staffs and students as participants as follows:

Society-based Project

Anthropological Kampung Exploration

Kampung is known as Indonesia's traditional settlement where in big cities this settlement usually connoted as a slum area. As a metropolitan city, Surabaya has successfully transformed its kampung to be a livable settlement for low income people through go-green initiatives, and home-based enterprises that run by its community.

This program was held for the first time on March 2017. Representatives from University of Vienna came to Surabaya for a kampung exploration, studying and observing the characteristics of Indonesian kampungs, and the traditional touch of the people and the culture in a metropolitan city. The program was run successfully for 3-weeks and brought an impactful results for the participants and the society.

Engineers in Action

Engineers in Action is an international community service in which foreign students and lecturers team up with ITS team to make an innovation to solve real problems in Surabaya's Kampung by applying knowledge and technology. The team works together and conducts several activities including data collection, preliminary study, and innovation project.

In 2017 Engineers in Action embraced NTUST students to deal with wastewater management problem; affording them to apply engineering methods on water conservation.

Global Leadership Camp

Leadership is one vital aspect of an organization. Research shows that high quality leadership leads to better business and management. Development Dimension International (DDI, 2011) unveils that well-trained leaders will perform much better than untrained one. Developing leadership of university students becomes critical to produce high quality & ready to work alumni.

ITS purposefully designs a Global Leadership Camp (GLC) to enhance participants' leadership. GLC is a 2-3 week project-based courses in which participants meet and learn from great leaders, explore their leadership competences, and do mini projects to solve leadership real-life problem. Besides, participants also learn Indonesian language, traditional music and dance, and visit local SME. In 2018, this program has been run successfully with 40 participants from Kumamoto University Japan and ITS. Mini project was carried out at 10 Broadband Learning Center in Surabaya.

Language and Culture-based Program

Language & Culture Camp

Language and Culture Camp is a short tailored program for learning Bahasa Indonesia and Indonesian culture while at the same time promoting soft-skills building among students and staffs. Usually the program lasts around 12-14 days and varies accordingly.

One of the camps was held for KMUTT in which the family of the university stayed in ITS for 14 days to learn Indonesian language, culture, gathering with local people, and of course, enjoying the beautiful nature of Indonesia.

The upcoming 2018 Language and Culture Camp is designed for 14 days especially for Feng Chia University, Taiwan to have deeper understanding about Indonesia and its rich culture.

English Boot Camp

The best way to learn language is to live where the language is used. But if that cannot be possible, then living in a tailor-made target language-speaking environment would do. That is what ITS being doing in English Boot Camp (EBC).

Built on the same characteristics of Indonesian and several Asian nations as non-English speaking countries, English Boot Camp is tailored to accommodate the need of English learning for Asian youngsters.
