WELCOME

Welcome to our Community Engagement for Development (CED) 2019!

It comes to my mind, what will be a better way to educate the Generation Z? How to better prepare them in facing the future challenges of the society? Then I remember an old saying of Confucius: "I hear and I forget. I see and I remember. I do and I understand". Yes, service learning is the right answer to those questions.

I believe this program, which is embedded with service learning, social entrepreneurship, and cross-cultural living approaches, will be a unique learning opportunity, not only for our students but also for students of our partner institutions.

This info sheet includes the offerings of the program. I am sure that you will find something of interest. We provide the perfect setting to extend student's learning experience by giving them the opportunity to be innovative and discover new skills.

Come and join our community engagement program where you can meet new friends, have fun, learn something new, and enjoy a range of memorable experiences. Seize the opportunity, get engaged with the community, and come away with lifelong memories.

PROGRAM OVERVIEW

What is CED?

CED is a community engagement program that utilizes social entrepreneurship approaches for stimulating socio-economic development and environmental sustainability in the local communities.

The program provides structured opportunities for student participants to interact and work across cultures in developing sound ideas for a better future.

Program Objectives

General:

To provide a venue for the educated millennials to engage in activities that promote the development of their social responsibility and contribute to the improvement of people's lives and environmental sustainability.

Specific:

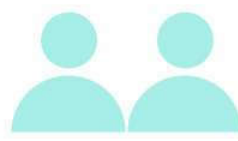

- To foster friendship among the participants through: (a) collaborative social projects that seek to uplift the social conditions of an underserved community, and (b) through recreational activities;
- To provide hands-on experience of the local language and culture of culturally-diverse Indonesia;
- To learn and share best practices for living together in peace and harmony with neighbors; and
- To apply and share one's technical knowledge in solving small community problems.

Why Service Learning?

Service learning is a structured learning experience that combines community service with explicit learning objectives, preparation, and reflection (Jacoby, B. and Associates, 1996). It provides students with opportunities to develop civic engagement skills. By working with community members, students can enhance their group, organizational, and interpersonal skills. They also can gain important experience working with diverse members of the communities.

In this program service learning methods are featured by social entrepreneurship and cross-cultural living. Social entrepreneurship is about applying practical, innovative, and environmentally sustainable approaches to benefit society in general, with an emphasis on those who are marginalized and poor (Schwab Foundation for Social Entrepreneurship). Cross-cultural living here in Indonesia entails promoting harmonious living through interaction and communication among young people across nationalities, races, religious affiliations, gender.

COMMUNITY PROFILE

Kediri Regency

Kediri Regency is situated on the valley of Mount Wilis, about 65 miles southwest of Surabaya. It is one of the centers of sugar industry in East Java, and is famous of its agricultural products such as rice, coffee, tobacco, and cassava.

Kediri has now become an educational, industrial, as well as tourism destination. As a center of tourism, Kediri has a lot of places of interests such as Mount Kelud, Puhsarang religious site, Ngeyangan waterfall, and Dolo waterfall.

Land area of Kediri covers 138,605 hectares. It lies between the plains and the mountains, where 35% consists of paddy field. Focusing on the farming, 73% of the farmland is arranged by technical irrigation.

Village Communities at Puhsarang

Puhsarang Village, is located at Semen District, Western Kediri. The village has hilly topography, and villages are located in the highlands with approximately 160 to 370 meters of altitude. The weather there is normally cool. Almost all of the local villagers are doing traditional farming. Farmers of this village are known for their paddy, corn, peanut, and mango productions.

Participants of CED will be billeted at the house of local villagers. During their stay, participants will experience daily lives of the villagers. There will several village communities to stay, and in each of the communities participants will enjoy cross-cultural living including learning traditional music and dances. Participants will also be engaged in several social works to give positive contribution to the local communities.
