CommTECH Competition 2020

CommTECH Competition 2020

A. Preface.

COVID-19 outbreak has a huge influence in many aspects of life. The spread of the Corona Virus through direct contact among individuals leads many countries to impose physical distancing to prevent its spread. This limitation is not just an obstacle, but on a larger scale, all parties must begin to adjust and prepare to live a new life. One form of transition to the new normal period is switching from offline to online activities.

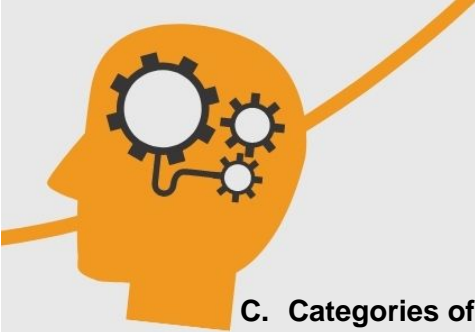

The impact of the outbreak itself is also perceived by its effect on the economic sector as many countries are struggling during this hard time. It is important for students to raise awareness and start dealing with these changes along with taking an active role. CommTECH Competition 2020 is expected to be a place to express creativity and a tool to connect students all over the world to jointly innovate in facing the impact of the COVID-19 outbreak.

In connection with the themes, students are expected to be able to participate in pioneering innovations in the field of technology to develop the campus' environment into a better one. In addition, participants are expected to be able to become the influencer for communities about how to live a good life during this pandemic and raise public awareness regarding economic and social issues that threaten life during this pandemic and how to overcome them in a creative way.
