International Lecturers

Adjunct Professor

ITS is dedicated to providing an international learning and teaching environment for students and staff, and global partnership holds an essential role in it. We are therefore open to collaborations with overseas professors and lecturers to participate as Adjunct Professors at ITS Surabaya. Adjunct Professors are defined as professors who are hired on a contractual basis. Adjunct professors at ITS Surabaya may choose one of two types; teaching-based or research/publication-based commitment.

Inbound Researcher Mobility

To increase research enthusiasm at ITS and widen research networks, ITS provides grants for international researchers to conduct joint research at ITS. Adapting research grant scheme by Indonesian government, this Inbound Researcher Mobility program endorses field-based research collaborations, joint supervision for student final project and to publish in reputable journals.

Visiting Professor

ITS' mission is to contribute to the development of science, technology, and art for the welfare of the community through educational activities, research, community service, and management systems based on Information and Communication Technology (ICT). ITS welcomes senior academics, researchers, and professors from overseas partners who wish to expand collaboration in exchanging expertise, teaching, or carrying out research at ITS.

ITS' International Flagship Programs

Global Learning Program

Through Global Learning Program (GLP), ITS is inviting international faculty members to deliver guest lectures in basic science in Mathematics, Physics, Chemistry, English, Technopreneurship, and Insights and Applications of Technology for ITS first year students. Taking place on-site in Surabaya, guest lecturers will also experience Indonesian culture and adventurous trip.

Guest Lecture Series

Through Guest Lecture Series (GLS), ITS is inviting international faculty members to deliver multidiscipline, general lectures related to Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs). Taking place on-site in Surabaya, guest lecturers will also experience Indonesian culture and adventurous trip.

International Staff Mobility (ISM)

Continuing its success since 2017, ITS is organizing Inbound Staff Mobility (ISM) for non-academic staff from ITS' partner universities and ITS' prospective partner universities. This program aims to provide a platform for non-academic staff to build networking and enhance their skills in pursuing internationalization. This program offers knowledge about human resources, student affairs, documents and archives management, as well as get introduced to Indonesian cultural activities.

ICONStaff

The International Conference for Non-Academic Staff (ICONStaff) is a platform for non-academic staff across the globe to widen their knowledge and upgrade capacity in career building to support campus internationalization. This program serves the notion upon the significance of non-academic staff existence to successful campus internationalization.
