Summer School in HUNGARY at the University of Dunaújváros

Experience excellent academic content and have fun at the same time!

COMMUNICATING IN A MULTICULTURAL SOCIETY AND WORLD, CORE SOCIAL MOTIVES ACROSS CULTURES AND INDIVIDUALS

CONTENT

The course covers the psychological foundations of human interaction, focusing on core social motives and communication behavior across cultures. Students examine the relationship between culture, identity, self-presentation, and social roles in multicultural settings. The program introduces the dramaturgy of communication, including situations, roles, and interaction scripts. Practical activities include role plays, simulations, and case studies that support experiential learning. Studio-based video recordings and their analysis help students reflect on their own communication styles. The course integrates theory and practice to strengthen intercultural competence and communicative effectiveness.

COURSE AIM

▶ To develop students' communication skills and self-awareness through practical and reflective learning methods.

▶ To introduce the psychological foundations of social interaction and core social motives across cultures.

▶ To enhance intercultural sensitivity and the ability to interpret behavior in diverse social contexts.

▶ To support the effective use of verbal and non-verbal communication strategies in different roles and situations.

▶ To foster responsible, cooperative, and reflective participation in multicultural communities.

QUICK FACTS

- 6 July - 17 July 2026
- Study format: short term
- Teaching method: on campus
- Credit points: 5 ECTS
- Workload: 40 teaching hours
- Qualification: Certificate from UOD
- Language: English

CONTACT

✉ application@uniduna.hu

📍 Táncsics Mihály u. 1/a, Dunaújváros, HUNGARY

Budapest
Dunaújváros

apply.uniduna.hu

TARGET GROUP

The course is intended for undergraduate and graduate students interested in communication, social interaction, and multicultural studies. It is especially suitable for participants studying social sciences, education, international relations, or related fields.

COURSE FEE

€ 1600 EUR

THIS INCLUDES

- Registration fee (100 EUR)
- All tuition, including lectures, seminars, and tutorials.
- Assessment, transcript of records and certificate.
- Accomodation at the student hostel
- Breakfast and lunch during the summer course
- Social activities, including two excursions to the Hungarian countryside

For detailed information about the course fee, visa support and cancellation and refund policy, please visit the following link:

🌐 General information on the university website

DUNAÚJVÁROSI EGYETEM
UNIVERSITY OF DUNAÚJVÁROS