WELCOME TO

UEH UNIVERSITY

The University of Economics Ho Chi Minh City (UEH) is one of Vietnam's leading public universities, recognized for academic excellence, innovation, and international integration. UEH is institutionally accredited by the Ministry of Education and Training of Vietnam and has received international accreditations from organizations such as AUN QA and FIBAA, reflecting its commitment to quality and global standards.

At UEH, international engagement is not simply an extension of academic activity. It is an essential part of our institutional identity. Students and scholars from diverse countries and backgrounds contribute meaningfully to a dynamic academic environment shaped by dialogue, collaboration, and mutual respect. Through interdisciplinary learning, cultural exchange, and research collaboration, UEH fosters critical thinking, leadership capacity, and a shared responsibility toward sustainable development and global progress.

This handbook provides partner institutions with key information about UEH and the Global Summer School program, including academic highlights and areas of collaboration. UEH looks forward to strengthening long term institutional partnerships and advancing meaningful international cooperation.

MILESTONE

50 Years of Quality Elevation and Global Integration:
The University of Economics Ho Chi Minh City's Journey since 1976

Originally established on October 27, 1976, as the first specialized Vietnamese university in Economics & Management, the University of Economics Ho Chi Minh City - UEH was tasked with training teachers, researchers, and managers urgently needed in Southern Vietnam following the war. Today, UEH has evolved into a pivotal national public university, with a student body exceeding 30,000 across diverse academic levels, including Bachelor's, Master's, and PhD programs, both domestically and internationally. Throughout its journey of growth and global integration, UEH has garnered numerous prestigious awards and accolades in education, research, consulting, and knowledge transfer. These achievements are widely acknowledged and celebrated by the domestic and international academic communities.

Towards a Sustainable and Multidisciplinary UEH

More About Ho
Chi Minh City

The bustling PORT CITY

The gateway, deep-water port, and large rivers are favorable conditions for this city to become the hub of domestic and international trade.

The rivers of Dong Nai, Saigon, and their confluence - Nha Be River - along with a network of artificial canals and natural channels, form a thriving waterway system for the city.

THE SAIGON RIVER'S SCENIC WATERFRONT PATH

~ 3km

Along the west bank of the Saigon River, there are multiple structures preserving the nostalgic memories of this urban city.

Nha Rong Wharf & Ho Chi Minh Museum (HCM City Branch)

On June 5th, 1911, the young patriot Nguyen Tat Thanh (later known as President Ho Chi Minh) departed from this harbor, embarking on his revolutionary journey.

Mong Bridge (1894)

Spanning the Ben Nghe Canal, the emerald green bridge features a curving steel arch reminiscent of the bridges of Paris.

The State Bank of Vietnam HCM City Branch (1930)

The bank showcases a fusion of European, Cham, and Khmer architectural influences, featuring patterns like lotus flowers, the divine Garuda bird, and the mythical Naga serpent.

Thu Ngu Flagpole (1865)

Situated at the junction of the Saigon River and Ben Nghe Canal, this flagpole stands as a historic landmark, witnessing the city's development.

Bach Dang Wharf & Me Linh Square

These are popular hangout spots for many city residents. 4pm - 6pm is the best time to admire the spectacular sunset on the Saigon River.

EXPLORING THE SAIGON RIVER

The waterbus is an exciting and inexpensive option for tourists to sightsee iconic constructions along the river. On the way, it is a good idea to stop by Binh Quoi Tourist Village and enjoy seafood at Phong Cua Restaurant.

INDEPENDENCE PALACE (1966)

It is the pre-1975 home and office of the President of the Republic of Vietnam, built on the former Norodom Palace (1873) - the residence of the French Governor of Cochinchina. The Palace was designed with a modern, tropical style, infused with many traditional Eastern philosophies by architect Ngo Viet Thu: the layout forms “吉” (Ji), the Chinese character for “auspiciousness”; the front forms the character “興” (Xing) for “prosperity”; and the stone lattice work resembles bamboo sections. The exhibition space currently preserves almost all the objects from half a century ago.
